

Social Studies 10-2 (5 Credits)

Course Description

Students will explore historical aspects of globalization as well as the effects of globalization on lands, cultures, human rights and quality of life. Students will explore the relationships among globalization, citizenship and identity. The infusion of multiple perspectives will allow students to examine the effects of globalization on peoples in Canada and other locations, including the impact on Aboriginal and Francophone communities. Students will develop skills to respond to issues emerging in an increasingly globalized world. (Program Rationale and Philosophy, ©Alberta Education, Alberta, Canada)

The four Related Issues (Units) from the curriculum include the following topics:

1. Should globalization shape identity?
2. Should people in Canada respond to the legacies of historical globalization?
3. Does globalization contribute to sustainable prosperity for all people?
4. Should I, as a citizen, respond to globalization?
